5 GOOD REASONS TO CHOOSE THE PYRENEES

01. TRADITIONAL AND MODERN

The French Pyrenees, the mountains of the south between France and Spain, the Atlantic and the Mediterranean, consists of six major ski resorts: Saint-Lary, Peyragudes, Cauterets, Grand Tourmalet, Ax-3-Domaines, Les Angles.

The French Pyrenees combine a rich cultural heritage with tourist development that respects the environment. The valleys are carefully protected so the countryside retains its pastoral character. Each resort has its own intimate charm, friendly welcoming locals and mid-altitude locations that are ideal for younger children plus a wonderful climate in which to ski.

Ski-in/ski-out resorts, traditional villages, alpine skiing and cross-country areas, freeride to apres-ski surrounded by the benefits and pleasures of natural warm spa waters.

02. HIGH TECH RESORTS IN PRESERVED NATURAL ENVIRONMENTS

Ski resorts of the French Pyrenees are set in a preserved natural environment.

Contrary to the Alps you will not find any industry in our valleys, no concrete resorts, just numerous small villages, which have retained their Pyrenean character, their authenticity and their inhabitants. Pyrenean resorts are much better presented because the Pyrenean valleys have not been industrialised and have remained rural with agricultural activity outside of tourism.

During their development the Pyrenean resorts integrated themselves into the villages and valleys, giving them more character and now allowing them to propose more activities than just skiing. At the same time visitors can enjoy the living ambience of these villages, meeting and creating relationships with the locals.

The French Pyrenean resorts have made a huge effort to limit the visual impact of their lift systems, particularly with the replacement of several high-capacity lifts. They also have made huge investment in the production of artificial snow.

03. THE LEADER FOR SKI & SPA HOLIDAY IN FRANCE

In winter, people visiting the mountain want to unwind, pamper themselves and reconnect with body and soul. The mountain is the perfect place to restore balance to a busy everyday life. Fresh air, nature, altitude and regenerative thermal waters are just some of the mountain's natural assets to enable everyone to get their glow back whilst on holiday. After spending a day skiing in the untouched setting and fresh air, the hot water, imbued with minerals from the mountains, is rejuvenating and soothing.

All the major ski resorts in the Pyrenees provide thermal water relaxation in innovative and modern spas as an "apres-ski" treat. They give their guests peaceful centres with a hot thermal water lagoon, bubble beds, swan neck fountains, music baths, jacuzzi, sauna, Turkish bath, Salt Callar, children area and more. For total relaxation, each centre has designed its very own treatment menu. Massages and scrubs, donkey milk baths, Dead Sea treatments, introductions to the art of the Turkish bath or Japanese rituals and more.

05. WORKING WITH THE ENVIRONMENT

The French Pyrenean resorts make every effort to conserve their natural environment and to limit their impact on the local eco-system. They have all obtained the environmental certification ISO 14001.

The resort of Saint-Lary was the first ski resort in the Pyrenees to sign the Durable Development Charter instigated by the association of mountain mayors.

The resort of Peyragudes has constructed a residence HQE (High Environmental Quality). Peyragudes was awarded the Trophy of Ecological Awareness by Mountain Riders for its efforts towards a durable and reasonable development.

The resort of Les Angles is also certified Iso's norm 50 001 for energy

An important effort has been made to adapt the ski areas, to limit the impact of the ski lifts on the environment, whilst still being able to improve the quality and the movement of skiers across the ski area.

04. «SOUTH WESTERN» LIFESTYLE IN FRANCE

Nestled between the Atlantic and Mediterranean, the Pyrenees carve through Southern France. The atmosphere here is fuss-free, relaxed and friendly. The beaming sun in the sky has nothing on the locals' beaming smiles. Visitors are welcomed as friends. They pull out all the stops, stories and top tips are shared and service always oozes simplicity.

A DESTINATION WITH SOUL

In the Pyrenees we take our time, we chat over a coffee or mulled wine, we have fun with the kids, we stroll along sun-soaked terraces, we settle into deckchairs to gaze at the views.

The villages are packed at the end of the day. With entertainment, bars, restaurants and shopping, you'll never get bored or lonely.

GASTRONOMY FULL OF FLAVOUR

Restaurants showcase local produce that the chefs cook with passion to tantalise your taste buds after a day filled with fresh mountain air. Local lamb, Madiran wine, Tarbais beans, Bigorre black pork and more.

MULTI-SLOPES CENTRES

The Hautes-Pyrénées are divided in to two main ski areas; these bring together several ski resorts: the valleys from Gavarnie to the west and Pyrenees 2 Valleys to the east. Each has its own treasures, highlights, panoramas and ambiance.

GAVARNIE VALLEYS

The winter showcase

The large valley that runs from Lourdes to Gavarnie is so familiar in summer, yet during winter, it adopts a different look, more isolated, almost intimidating, but still imposing and magnificent. Encircling the Pyrenees National Park, you enter into an exceptional mountain setting. It is also a setting for discoveries, where you will get to know this multi-faceted landscape.

Whatever the season, the valley's heart is at Luz-Saint-Saveur, the real nerve centre. You stop in Luz, you go through it and you go through it again, heading for the Grand Tourmalet, Gavarnie or Luz-Ardiden.

The largest of the Pyrenean ski slopes, the Grand Tourmalet stretches over both sides of the border and can boast that it is the home of the famous Pic du Midi. Within the area, there are real freeride ski slopes, unique in the Pyrenees.

The Gavarnie cirque, classed as a UNESCO site, is more noble and more fascinating than ever when it's wearing its cloak of snow and ice. Its ski slopes, surrounded by 3000, is the perfect place for a contemplative ski.

In Luz-Ardiden, you find a friendly atmosphere and a varied ski offering. From the summit, you can see the neighbouring resort of Cauterets, which you can reach via the Luz gorges.

In Cauterets, the architecture is completely different. An example of the Belle Epoque, it is both original and refined. Its ski slopes are coiled up in the heart of the Lys cirque. It has the advantage of being panoramic and offering some of the best natural snow coverage in the Pyrenees. If you enjoy cross-country skiing, you'll love the Pont d'Espagne slopes, just like a little Canada.

So, then, there is just the wildness and tranquillity of the Val d'Azun, with its cross-country area and the Hautacam, a real snow theme park. Don't forget to benefit from the healing properties of the thermal waters in the region's 4 spa centres.

SKI PASS

- For 20 euros the Gavarnie Valley Pass allows you to ski without going to the ticket office any time of the week or weekend.
- The days you ski are deducted from the pass with 10-15% off the main rates.

VALLÉES DE GAVARNIE
PYRENEES

PYRENEES 2 VALLEES

Ski & Sensual delight

In the heart of the Pyrenees mountains, this is fabulous cocoon, where you can delight in not just the pleasures of skiing, but also the beauty of the wild landscapes, the muffled atmosphere of the snow-covered forests, the incredible frozen lakes, the tranquillity of a mountain village, the warmth of cosy accommodation, and the friendly ambiance of the lively evenings, where all the Gascon and Iberian influences mingle.

You can slide your skis freely from slope to slope in the 4 ski resorts. If you love wild, open spaces, you'll want to explore the enchanting setting of the Néouvielle Reserve, scattered with sleep winter pine trees and lakes. Some of you might choose a trip through the Balestas forest with a dog-sled, before taking a contemplative walk along the banks of the Loudenvielle lake, or appreciating a view over both valleys from the Val Louron-Azet pass.

Others might be tempted by crossing the border into neighbouring Spain, for some shopping, skiing or exploring. But everyone will end the day bathing in one of the 4 spa centres, before enjoying a Pyrenean meal and then snuggling down for the night.

With the skiing, the four resorts have each developed their own style. Saint-Lary is renowned with slopes that created great Olympic champions such as Isabelle Mir in skiing and Polo De Le Rue in snowboarding. Peyragudes is expert with its impeccable slopes, its innovative snow facilities and high-performance ski-lifts. Val Louron is the big resort for little people with the largest area of nursery slopes in the Pyrenees. Piau is natural with its high mountain decoration, its integrated architecture and its guaranteed snow coverage.

The two access routes to Spain increase the possibilities for sliding. The Val d'Aran leads you to the King of Spain's very posh resort, Baqueira. And the Aragnouet tunnel reveals the secret, untouched Pineta Valley with its snowshoe and cross-country ski trails which meander under the watch of the mighty Monte Perdido.

SKI PASS

- 1 single pass
- 1 card for €20 per customer.
- The customer then pays for their ski days by direct debit during their stay
- Valid for 4 or 8 days, in pay-as-you-go mode, so you only pay for the days you actually ski, at a preferential price, by bank transfer.

ALL ABOARD FOR THE PLANETARIUM

Europe's highest planetarium has been launched into orbit at the Pic du Midi. At the heart of the one hundred year old Baillaud Dome an 8-metre wide hemispheric screen covers the dome in its entirety. This winter the gigantic cinema will project a film which recounts the history of the Pic du Midi since it was built.

IT IS ONE OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL VIEWS IN THE PYRENEES

To reach the Pic one ascends by cable-car from La Mongie in fourteen minutes and then step out to the panorama offered of the Pyrenees and the great southern plains – it is unforgettable. There are 600 square metres of terraces and guides help visitors explore over 300 kilometres of summits and peaks and explain all about the wildlife here in the mountains. Since 1880 the Pic has been dedicated to the exploration of the universe and remains the highest observation platform in Europe and the research centre for the sun and the magnetism of the stars.

THE CLEAREST SKY IN EUROPE

The Pic du Midi was named an "International Dark Sky Reserve" (IDSR) by an American association: the International Dark Sky Association (IDA). It is the 5th in the world, the 1st in Europe and the largest on the planet with a 600km² protected central area. This accreditation recognises the incredible night sky due to unrivalled clean air and atmospheric stability.

A NIGHT ON THE SUMMIT

Since 2006 the Pic du Midi has been offering nights on the summit. It is during the night that the Pic du Midi reveals all its magic. The traditional dinner is prepared with regional certified products. Accompanied by an astronomer your group (maximum 27 people) can spend an unforgettable night observing the stars, whether with the naked eye or with the 500 telescope in the Charvin dome. Bedrooms for one or two people have been recently refurbished for well-deserved rest. Early in the morning one can enjoy the fabulous sight of sunrise over the Pyrenees. The whole experience allows one to discover the work of the Pic's astronomers.

THE ONLY 100% FREERIDE AREA IN THE PYRENEES

The Pic du Midi opened its unique freeride ski domain in December 2013, based on the idea of the Aiguille du Midi in Chamonix and La Grave in the Alpes. As a result, the first and the second parts of the cable car are now opened to the most experienced skiers. Each stage of the cable car journey allows access to an exceptional high mountain ski area that spreads over the three slopes of the Pic du Midi.

FREERIDE RUNS FROM THE PEAK AT AN ALTITUDE OF 2877M

- Coume Peak: On La Mongie slope a 1700m difference in altitude, a 10km run and arriving lower than the resort in Artigues-Campan.
- Classic: a 1000m difference in altitude and a 45 minute run on the south-facing slope. The run takes skiers above the frozen Oncet Lake. Arrival at the foot of the Grand Tourmalet slopes on the Bareges slope.
- Black Rock: for advanced skiers. The run takes skiers beneath the ski lift to the foot of the slopes on La Mongie slope.
- Botanical Garden: next to the previous trail. Skiers feel as though they're on a ski piste. South-facing run with a 45° slope.

FREERIDE TRAILS FROM THE TAULET HALFWAY POINT AT AN ALTITUDE OF 2341M

Skiers can choose from 4 runs:

LISTED AMONG THE WORLD'S TOP 50 MOST BEAUTIFUL FREERIDE SITES

British journalist Patrick "Snowhunter" Thorne put the Pic du Midi in his guide to the world's most beautiful freeride spots. He described it as unique with:

"up to 300km of peaks in view, and it is imperative that you stay a while and take in the 360-degree panorama. Indeed, in clear conditions, the night sky above is equally stunning."

"If it was groomed and graded, this might be a black-gradient slope with those magnificent vistas still in front of you, before it drops into vast, wide, sweeping, powder-filled valleys between rocky buttresses. In normal conditions a good off-piste skier can cope with these and indeed obtain maximum powder pleasure from them."

NEW!

→ TOTAL IMMERSION WITH 'HISTOPAD'

In December, thanks to touch pads called HistoPad, the Pic du Midi offers a new interactive visit – Visitors will have 2d and 3d experiences looking in to the past and inaccessible sectors of the Pic du Midi.

→ SPACE EXPERIENCES: SCIENCE FOR ALL

Since June 2018, 'Espace experience' reinforces the Pic's attraction for all and the new interpretation centre, with its interactivity allows a more scientific understanding of the observatory at the Pic du Midi.
